

SOUTH CAROLINA
Developmental Disabilities Council

2018-2019 GRANT FUNDING APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

For new and continuing projects | FY2019

The South Carolina Developmental Disabilities Council

The mission of the South Carolina Developmental Disabilities Council is to provide leadership in planning, funding, and implementing initiatives that lead to improved quality of life for people with developmental disabilities and their families through advocacy, capacity building, and systemic change.

The South Carolina Developmental Disabilities Council (DD Council) was established in 1971 by Executive Order (reauthorized in 2010 and 2015) to serve as the State's forum for issues concerning the needs of individuals with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families. The Council empowers people with disabilities and their family members to achieve their maximum level of independence, productivity, and integration into the community. The Council receives funding under the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act of 2000 (DD Act, P.L. 106-402) to provide assistance in the development and coordination of services and supports for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families. As a result, no less than 70% of federal funding allotted to the DD Council is used to fund grant projects assigned to a Council State Plan objective.

The DD Council supports projects in three priority areas as detailed in the 2017-2021 Five Year State Plan. The current plan, developed with input across multiple Council stakeholders including individuals with disabilities and their families, details three priority areas: Employment, Community Supports, and Self Advocacy. Each priority area includes objectives, and grants are awarded to projects addressing these objectives as determined by DD Council's standing committees.

Developmental Disability Defined

Developmental disabilities are defined by the DD Act in two parts: A., generally, and B., infants & young children.

- A. In general—The term developmental disability means a severe, chronic disability of an individual that—
- (i) is attributable to a mental or physical impairment or combination of mental and physical impairments;
 - (ii) is manifested before the individual attains age 22;
 - (iii) is likely to continue indefinitely;
 - (iv) results in substantial functional limitations in 3 or more of the following areas of major life activity;
 - a. Self-care;
 - b. Receptive and expressive language;
 - c. Learning;
 - d. Mobility;
 - e. Self-direction;
 - f. Capacity for independent living;
 - g. Economic self-sufficiency; and
 - (v) reflects the individual's need for a combination and sequence of special, interdisciplinary, or generic services, individualized supports, or other forms of assistance that are of lifelong or extended duration and are individually planned and coordinated.
- B. Infants and Young Children—An individual from birth to age 9, inclusive, who has a substantial developmental delay or specific congenital or acquired condition, may be considered to have a developmental disability without meeting 3 or more of the criteria described in clauses (i) through (v) of subparagraph (A) if the individual, without services and supports, has a high probability of meeting those criteria later in life.

Application Composition

All proposals must be typed in 10-point Times New Roman, Arial, or Calibri typeface.

Major points must be supported by facts and data, and grant activities must be evidence based.

The DD Council is most interested in receiving innovative proposals for well-planned projects. Successful proposals are quickly and easily understood, have direction, have broad support, and demonstrate a need in the community. Proposals must include planned key success measurement to support desired objectives. Measurement of these results will be essential to evaluating the success of the project.

Advocacy, Self Advocacy, Capacity Building, and Systems Change

Proposals must demonstrate how they will impact one or more of the following areas: Advocacy, Self-Advocacy, Capacity Building, and Systems Change in relation to the RFP Goal and Objective. Definitions are below:

Advocacy is speaking on behalf of or in support of another person and/or actively supporting a cause or proposal.

Self Advocacy is speaking up for yourself, making your own decisions about your own life, learning how to get information so that you can understand things that interest you, knowing your rights and responsibilities, problem solving, listening and learning, reaching out to others when you need help, and learning about self-determination.

Capacity Building is the process of organizational or personal development that focuses on understanding the obstacles that inhibit people, governments, and organizations from realizing their goals while enhancing abilities that will allow them to achieve measurable and sustainable results.

Systems Change is collaboratively engaging people and organizations to change the policies of government, agencies, and organizations to improve service delivery for people with disabilities and their families.

Review and Evaluation of Applications

Members of the DD Council and the Council staff will review the application. Factors considered include:

- Applicant effectively addresses the requirements in the RFP.

- Proposal is clearly written, supported by facts, and includes a 12-month work plan with S.M.A.R.T objectives: specific, measurable, achievable, realistic, and timed.
- Project includes interagency collaboration and community-based programming that avoids duplication of services.
- Applicant has a plan for sustaining the project beyond maximum funding period of three years.
